Every picture tells a story

Mattapoisett photojournalist Lynn McLaren shoots from the hip

Photojournalist Lynn McLaren's cozy Mattapoisett home is adorned with samples of her work — the labor of over 40 years of setting the shutter speed, adjusting the focus and capturing those perfect moments on film.

To amateur photographers, that might seem easy.

But for a woman who has seen her work featured in the likes of Newsweek, National Geographic, Time, Life, Yankee, and Natural History, little is left to chance.

"I love taking pictures of people and situations," Ms. McLaren said. "I like to portray what a place is like, which is what I did in my (latest) book."

Ms. McLaren's new photo essay, Ebb Tide — Flood Tide, now available from the University of South Carolina Press, is an engrossing peek at her other home away from home: Beaufort, South Carolina. In it she weaves a wonderful world of southern life as seen through the eyes of its natives.

Not surprisingly, Beaufort resembles a quaint New England fishing village, a setting which Ms. McLaren favors for both its historical and natural value.

"I always wanted to do something on Mattapoisett," she admitted, "but so much of (the history) is over now. I wish I had been here around 1850 ... that would have been ideal."

An example of how times have changed is her reference to a photo in the new collection of a man "tonging for oysters," a method which has since been abandoned in this area.

"About five years ago they stopped tonging for oysters and now they just shovel them up," she said.

But she still thinks the character of a small coastal town is unlike any other.

Ebb Tide - Flood Tide* by Lynn McLaren
Take a pictorial journey through the low country of South Carolina and the neighboring sea islands. With spectacular color photographs, Lynn McLaren, summer resident of Mattapoisett, has captured the heart and soul of this unique area, conveying the spirit of the region and the great love of the inhabitants for the land. Ms. McLaren's work has appeared in National Geographic, The New York Times, Newsweek and Time-Life Books. She also has had one-woman shows of her photographs in the U.S. and abroad. Refreshments will be served.

Clambake: A History and Celebration of an American Tradition* by Kathy Neustadt
On each third Thursday in August since 1888, the Quakers of Allen's Neck in South Dartmouth have gathered for a community clambake. Every facet of the clambake process is embedded in the group's history and values, from the collecting and stacking of firewood, rocks and seaweed to the final cleanup. Using this event as a primary example, the author presents a history of clambaking in New England as a regional tradition with political and cultural roots and discusses the deeper meanings of tradition itself.

"I love the sea," she said, referring to her modest Mattapoisett home. "We're right on the intercoastal waterway. We have a great view of all the barges traveling up and down the waterway."

It is this quality which drew Ms. McLaren to Beaufort as both a residence and the subject for her latest work.

"The thing that impressed me so much about Beaufort was the change," she said. "There are more than a hundred islands in the area — some of which are there and some of which disappear at high tide. It's quite a drop in the height of the water."

Ebb Tide — Flood Tide is a milestone project in that it captures a place she has grown fond of over the years while representing her first venture with color photography.

Her previous photo collections — shot exclusively in black & white — included Berlin and the Berliners, The Village: The People, Life of a Student Nurse and A Book for Boston.

But Ms. McLaren reluctantly admitted that in order to make her new work appealing to both publishers and the buying public, she had to produce a color work. She is pleased with the results of her five-year effort, however.

She stumbled across the picturesque area while traveling south with her husband on I-95 in search of "those beautiful southern mansions" she had heard so much about. And Beaufort was the place she found with all its classic historical buildings still intact.

According to Ms. McLaren, the area was taken over by Union soldiers during the Civil War and most of the buildings were converted into either command stations or hospitals. It was for this reason that General Sherman never made any attempt to destroy the stunning manses captured in her book.

As far as forthcoming projects are concerned, a great deal relies on financial backing. Ms. McLaren readily admits that it is an expensive undertaking to publish a coffee-table-sized collection of photographs — especially color prints. But she has been entertaining two fascinating possibilities.

One is an anthology of New England barns, which Ms. McLaren has considered for the last few years. A black & white sample taken in Concord hangs in her living room, its few empty panes of glass staring out like a lost child.

Another project which she feels has often been attempted but never fully realized is a collection of doorways — but not, as she puts it, "static doorways," rather those that "both beckon and yet shut out."

Ms. McLaren's life-long commitment to her career is apparent in her impressive résumé.

She attended Vassar College and initially wanted to be an artist, but found she was too impatient to learn to draw, so she opted for the more immediate results of photography. Her keen eye and sense of composition didn't betray her and she went on to the esteemed Missouri School of Photojournalism, after which her work began appearing in many impressive publications.

She worked for a time at the Middle East Institute Newsletter, which she helped to expand and improve, and eventually became the featured cover photographer for the Foreign Service Journal, beating out her rival, Paul Child — husband to famed chef Julia Child.

After publishing the collections previously cited, she had her work displayed in one-woman shows throughout the United States, including the United Nations and Washington, D.C.

Despite these impressive accomplishments, however, Lynn McLaren is remarkably soft-spoken and modest. She offers an appreciative "thank you" when her work is complimented and makes little fuss over her milestone career.

She remains most proud of her latest work and looks forward to publishing her collection on doorways which has been an ongoing project for the last twelve years.

"I like capturing people in their natural setting," she said. "To me that's what makes a great photo."

Lynn McLaren will be present at Baker Books, 80 William Street in New Bedford, on Friday, August 21 from 6:00 to 8:00 pm to sign copies of Ebb Tide — Flood Tide. She will also be autographing poster prints of a photo not in the collection which will be available during the signing. Refreshments will be served and all are urged to meet this compelling local artist.

Local poet John Fandel sees rhyme in every reason

James Finn Cotter, in his review in America magazine said "For Fandel, the poetic craft consists in grafting onto nature's potentialities for change: the poem is a plant led into life by God's good sunlight and the poet's green thumb."

And Roy Scheele in The Sewanee Review noted "There is an early-morning sense of discovery about the best of Fandel's poems, an openness to nature and human (including spiritual) experience."

To a first-time reader of John Fandel's stirring poetry, there is also something more — a familiar sight, an amicable sound, a recognized memory.

But that type of precise, elegant craft isn't born out of nothing.

Indeed, the 66-year-old retired English professor who hails from Yonkers, NY and spends his summers in Mattapoisett has put in his time.

And time has yielded an astounding body of work.

His latest offering, a collection titled Ranging and Arranging is now available through Roth Publishing and marks his sixth full length anthology of poems.

Over the years, he has found that writing poetry is more or less something he has to do as opposed to something he wants to do.

"I found myself writing poetry as an inspiration," Mr. Fandel said. "For me, every poem is a new problem ... but it also is a new pleasure. So the pleasure sort of outweighs the problem. That is the delight of poetry."

He loves the fact that his work has been widely published, because he believes that is the real purpose of poetry — to share your thoughts and ideas with others.

He recalls innumerable readings he has hosted over the years, all of which were wonderful experiences, whether for an audience of four or 400.

And he fondly recalls some early inspirations for his lifelong career; in particular Robert Francis and a memorable meeting with American poet Robert Frost.

"Frost thought very highly of my work," he said. "I was the Frost Poet at Breadloaf (Middlebury College graduate program) in the summer of 1950, which was founded by Robert Frost."

"I met him at that time and he was just 50 years older than me," he said. "I was 25, he was 75."

Mr. Fandel cites every poet as having had an influence on his own work, however. He feels that interpretation is a vital part of a poet's own voice.

"Every poet you read shows you something," he said. "And you then make it your own, unless you don't have an individual voice. Otherwise you sound like another Frost, another Hopkins, another Poe ... we've already had them, we don't need more."

Some of his particular contemporary favorites include Richard Wilbur and James Merrill.

"They are two of (America's) star poets," he said. "But here in America there are so many poets who don't get the recognition they deserve but who are very fine. It's so interesting how some poets just capture the attention of many people — and people who are not necessarily readers of poetry."

Over the years, Mr. Fandel has caught the attention of many people with his own captivating work. He began publishing in 1959, with an anthology titled Testament. Since then, his other collections have done remarkably well, including Body of Earth, The Deserted Greenhouse, Bach and a Catbird and 5 A.M., the last of which was published in 1987. Ranging and Arranging is his first work since.

But it isn't simply published collections which interest him. Mr. Fandel also finds it cathartic to publish in a variety of magazines as well. Among others, he has been published in The New Yorker and even served as Poetry Editor for Commonweal magazine

It was through years of teaching English that he learned a great deal about writing poetry. He taught composition and survey literature courses at Notre Dame, Fordham University, Lawrence College and Portsmouth Abbey. His "Craft of Verse" course focused more on creating poetry than examining others' work.

Surprisingly, Mr. Fandel said some of the best examples came from engineering and mathematics students who somehow latched onto the organization involved with creating poetry.

"It was Ezra Pound who once said 'Poetry is almost inspired mathematics,'" Mr. Fandel noted.

And throughout his many years of penning everything from blank verse to vilanelle sonnets, John Fandel has still managed to catch that glimpse of something inspirational.

One of the new accompanying poems — published exclusively in The Wanderer for the first time anywhere — titled "Arcane Arcadian,"

Poems by John Fandel

ARCANE ARCADIAN

Fleeter than sound of light, the hummingbird a wingless irridescence shook the eye inspecting columbine It came to suck honey of — out of nowh ... well, Er-e-whon, somewhere ideal, or other, evanesced ('disappeared' too darn slow) faster than hum, the very idea hummingbird through mind slower, so when eye looked on bare air and I got up a phrase for where it went,
'arcane Arcadia'; where it had been,
of here, where I still stand (peace, Flight of Mind), what shall I say? Heaven? Won-der-ous World!? that has such moments muslin wonder wanes into momentous tuning into — Eden?
And yet this common earth swings columbine thuribles red ... redd ... O Ruby-throated!

I used to say it Guadal on it, too — beats me. I saved the string, paper and stamps because he wrapped, tied it, licked the postage — you know, mementos, having something his, touch on folds, knots, his tamp on the airmails.
Nothing of him, his, came home, else — watch, ring — was inspired by a ruby-throated hummingbird he saw recently near his home.

"Sometimes it begins for me with just a single word," he said. "My ideas come from every one of the senses."

After over 40 years of writing poetry, you might think that John Fandel has tapped just about every experience for a few lines of verse.

"Well, I've noticed that I sometimes return to familiar ground," he said. "There are bound to some kind of returns after all these years. But, to me, that's the pleasure of writing poetry. It's a great analogy for life."

CY'S BYTE
"equal to one character or eight bits"

Two azaleas growing side by side alike in height, in shrubbiness alike, blushed pink as brides each spring, each spring re-wed to him who weds, therefore not veiled in white;
fountains of green all summer, bosky green;
whittled down, winter, skinny, bushy twigs;
this spring called off the twins-bit, when one balked:
Lea, while Aza puts on pink again, ensembled in dried-out veins stands sculptured, wire, transcending, maybe?, on-demand desire, and so looks — well, not in fashion, quite, tho shows the pink ensemble a bit too ... Cy

ANENTING GRACE

"Grace comes somehow violent." Aeschylus.
But where in Aeschylus, I wouldn't know.
I picked it out of someone's picking out of context. I'm not even sure I think I quite agree with him so long before the Christ if after Adam after all.
I mean, Consider: Grace so freely given & Violence so rudely forced as kin kissing the sinner? since Grace kisses us.
And yet I think I do agree when I consider how entrenched in Grimpen Mire ...
Grace kisses hard and rather rudely, too.
Among the fleshpots, Grace a smackeroo, no suave ... on to other truths: anyway — not exactly anointing Aeschylus — wise Aeschylus says somehow. Somehow wise.
And somehow would provide the crucifixion.
Somewhere else he says in Agamemnon
"I know how men in exile feed on dreams."

SWIMMING TO EDEN

The fog came really down, and I mean really, no dacron polyester stuff, real cotton, and I mean real, when we broke thru the breakers cottoned down to combers for two comers,
"mad men" to lubbers going in to tea;
and His Voice bodiless called back to me
"Come on, water's for walking on, and I mean."
Then no voice unless cottonmouth foghorn.
Only the vision of the far shore kept me going on on into a TV screen turned off but whiter, whiter, white as ... cotton.
Then clicked on! just a second, and the Eden focused in techni-green, O O & O, umbrageous treetops propped on elegant boles shading the sward, an insert, O a Sisley ...
"You made it, then?"
I'm here.
"And then what, then?"
Arrival halves the pleasure of arriving.

His blank verse voice shifted to syllabics, as ads for Chris Craft, Chrysler interrupt suspense.

AMONG THE GNATS

Shade seeks shade under the pines; it feels rubbed into skin a vaporless liniment, along with gnats of every name, buffalo, midges, punkies, huge as a speck, their bite worse than their buzz. News gets around; they come in herds on hearing this AM I'm clearing under the pines where bittersweet runs rampant plotting to pull a pine down — oh yes, it will,
as well as pulling down ideals of Nature itchy in critters and virulent in vines, those sweet ideals that have no truck with bitter.
Someone, who?, has opened hypogean gates to let the gnats correct Pastoral Idylls and make me wonder why I clip pull clip — restoring Eden? or destroying Nature?
Well, to strain at gnats and swallow camels — old as Adam. What can Newcomer do?
Do forbearance? Do omphaloskepsis?
Roll down sleeves and smear on citronella.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting
August 18, 1992

A meeting of Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on August 18, 1992 at 7:02 pm by Chairman John N. DeCosta. Present were Selectman Paul E. Lambalot, Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney and Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

A motion to approve the minutes of the August 11 meeting was made by Selectman Lambalot, seconded by Selectman Mahoney and made unanimous by Chairman DeCosta.

Also approved were the minutes of two Executive Sessions held on July 28 and August 4, respectively.

The board met with registered surveyor James Lanagan regarding a parcel of land currently in the town's possession. Since Mr. Lanagan is the nephew of Selectman Lambalot, he asked to refrain from commenting on the matter and remained "an objective observer."

The parcel of land under consideration is Lot 9, Map 29, which a client of Mr. Lanagan — a Mr. Lees — is interested in purchasing to later expand his own property. The property is at the far end of North Street, about 1,000 feet from the Mattapoisett/Rochester town line.

The two abutting lots (8 and 10) are under the jurisdiction of trustees John Santiago and Joan Grady.

According to Mr. Lanagan, the property was taken over by the town in lieu of outstanding taxes in September, 1941. The entire piece of land encompassed approximately 20 acres, which have since been divided up into other parcels and sold off. This remaining portion is the last of five parcels already sold.

Selectman Mahoney agreed that the town really isn't in need of the land but told Mr. Lanagan that before the matter is settled, it must go before Town Meeting and Mr. Lanagan's client must set a price.

"We can't go to Town Meeting without a price," Mr. Mahoney said. "And we as a board do not have the authority to set a figure. We also need to have copies of all the documents for our files."

The selectmen also agreed to visit the property to see its condition and asked that Mr. Lanagan research the assessed value of the parcel. Selectman Mahoney said he didn't think there was any need to get outside appraisals before making a final presentation.

"We can take a look at the land in the meantime," Chairman DeCosta agreed, "while you figure out what kind of offer your client is going to make."

The board next signed temporary bonds which are being issued in lieu of anticipated tax revenue. A total of $648,000 was bonded at a rate of 1.5 percent through Fleet Bank of Fairhaven. The bond is good through October 1, at which time tax revenue should be returned.

"It's not a normal practice," said Chairman DeCosta, "but all towns and business do take out short-term bonds at one time or another."

At 7:31 pm, the Board of Selectmen adjourned to go into an Executive Session to consider a complaint brought against a public official of the town.

The board reconvened at 8:07 pm to return to regular business.

After signing payrolls and bills for the week, Selectman Mahoney motioned a request from Com/Electric and New England Telephone for a proposed joint pole relocation and the removal of one existing joint pole location on North Street, north of Heritage Lane.

The motion was seconded by Selectman Lambalot and made unanimous by Chairman DeCosta.

Chairman DeCosta next announced a meeting of the Marion/Mattapoisett/Rochester Housing Co-Op, Inc. to take place on Friday, August 21 at 3:00 pm in Marion's Town Hall.

There being no outgoing correspondence for the week, Chairman DeCosta began citing incoming correspondence beginning with a letter from Superintendent of Schools Joan M. Walsh regarding a vote of the Old Rochester Regional School District Committee. Superintendent Walsh explained in the letter that the committee has resubmitted their official vote regarding the $60,000 for architectural and engineering services in connection with ORR.

According to the letter, "If the towns which have already passed the measure do not hold a meeting, the vote will stand. In fact, if the Board of Selectmen decide not to hold a meeting at the end of the time period specified by law, the project would be approved."

Selectman Mahoney said that since the town has already voted in favor of the budgeted amount, there is no need for further action. Both Marion and Mattapoisett have previously passed the amount, with Rochester still pending a rescheduled election on September 30.

A letter was received from Town Counsel Daniel Perry regarding his opinion letter to Dale Barrows of the Board of Health. Mr. Barrows' request was relative to setting fees for services and permits.

According to Mr. Perry, the Board of Health must secure Town Meeting authority to impose said fees.

Selectman Mahoney was disturbed that any town department could set their own fees without consulting the board or going before a Town Meeting vote.

"I think we need the overall supervision of Town Counsel in this matter," Mr. Mahoney said. "I'm very uneasy about allowing everyone to set their own fees without regard to the legal issues involved."

Selectman Lambalot agreed. "I'm definitely not in favor of all boards setting their own fees without going to Town Meeting or — at the very least — coming before the Board of Selectmen."

Mr. Mahoney asked Executive Secretary Carol Adams to prepare a file on all departments regarding fee structures and limitations. He wants to make sure that all future decisions are made with a full understanding of the laws involved.

The board received a letter from the State Department of Public Works regarding permits for carnivals, parades and road races. The letter pertains to the town's contacting the District Permit Engineer regarding any activity which abuts or impacts the state highway for a proper permit.

Chairman DeCosta also noted correspondence from the Department of Revenue regarding changes in the FY93 Cherry Sheet figures.

According to the revisions, Mattapoisett will be receiving $69,676 more in general revenue; $44,500 more from Old Colony; and $93,500 more from ORR. These figures are adjustments over the original Cherry Sheet approximations sent out in June.

Ms. Adams said that Joseph Bolton, the Town Accountant, wants to meet with the board next week to discuss exactly what these changes will mean to the town's fiscal budget.

Executive Secretary Adams also wanted to announce that due to exhausted funding for the bathing beach, hours will be reduced effective August 20.

Beginning on that date and running through September 4, the restrooms will remain open but no beach attendants will be on duty. The beach will be fully operational, however, on the following dates:

- August 22 - 23 — 12:00 noon to 4:00 pm
- August 29 - 30 — 12:00 noon to 4:00 pm
- September 5 - 7 — 12:00 noon to 4:00 pm

Despite the lack of funds, selectmen agreed that beach hours worked out well this year. Having started with a $2,000 account for supplies and salaries, they managed to keep the beach open for most of the summer season. Ms. Adams also wanted to commend Pam Hiller and Wendy Reed for their excellent work at the beach throughout the summer.

There being no further new or old business to discuss, the board adjourned the meeting at 8:42 pm.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

August 4, 1992

Minutes Pending Approval August 18, 1992

A meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order at 7:00 pm on Tuesday, August 4, 1992. Present were Chairman Loretta B. Schaefer, Selectman James S. Dougall, Executive Secretary Ray E. Pickles and Helene Craver, secretary.

Joseph Cunning, Regional Disability Coordinator, met with the Board to discuss handicapped parking spaces in Marion. Mr. Cunning said that the curb cut in front of library should be redone, as it was improperly constructed the first time. Mr. Cunning said that Mrs. Klevin, the librarian, had contacted him regarding climate control. Mr. Cunning said that he would send her note to the Library Trustees for action.

The creation of a handicapped parking space at the rear of the library was discussed. Mr. Cunning said that the railing in front of the library was too low, which causes difficulty for people who need it. The board and Mr. Cunning discussed access to Town Hall, crosswalks, parking at the post office, general store and pharmacy. Mr. Cunning also discussed parking, access and handicapped telephone at Island Wharf and access to Old Landing and Silvershell Beach. Mrs. Schaefer thanked Mr. Cunning for his timely recommendations.

The board met with Chief Brian Scott and Officer Jonathan Philbrook. Chief Scott requested the board to appoint Officer Philbrook to a full-time position with the Police Department, effective August 9. Chief Scott said that Officer Philbrook had worked part-time for over two years and would be a valuable addition to the department. Chief Scott added that he was proud to bring Officer Philbrook before the board.

Mr. Dougall moved the appointment of Jonathan Philbrook as a full-time police officer, effective August 9. The motion was seconded and carried.

The board and Mr. Pickles briefly discussed their concerns regarding a subcontractor working on the drainage project on Route 105. It was decided that these concerns would be documented in a letter to be sent to the Massachusetts Department of Public Works.

Mr. Dougall moved to award the contract for the Perry Hill production well and East and West well replacements at the combined station to A&W Artesian Well Company of Woonsocket, RI as low bidder; the motion was seconded and carried.

The Board reviewed correspondence from the Executive Office of Community Development (EOCD) outlining conditions for receiving grant monies for the soft second mortgage program that was awarded to Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester. Lee Craver explained that if the funding is not used by October 15, the monies revert back to other communities. Mr. Craver reported that, as a result of a meeting with EOCD officials held July 30, he had been informed that the funding could only be used by people living, working or having family ties with the three communities.

Mr. Craver said that the grant money will probably allow nine to fifteen first-time home buyers qualify for the program. Mrs. Schaefer remarked that this information should be made available for the larger employers in the area, such as Sippican, Inc. and SEMASS.

Mr. Pickles said that he has had requests from Carver and Wareham for a joint meeting with the board to discuss a regional recycling station. The meeting has been tentatively

Mr. Partridge stressed that the Beverly Yacht Club would reimburse the town for any expenses incurred for the event. Mr. Partridge said that the event would attract sailors between the ages of 9 and 19 and that this was considered the highlight of the summer by the junior sailors.

Mrs. Schaefer to grant the Beverly Yacht Club Junior Regatta permission to store trailers at Island Wharf from August 23 - 26 and to utilize the services of the EMT's and police officers as needed; the motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Dougall said that he would like the press to remind residents that Marion By-Laws require house numbers to be affixed next to front doors to assist the EMT's fire and police departments in locating houses. Albin Johnson remarked that the Town of Wareham inspects for house numbers when inspecting smoke detectors. Mr. Pickles said that was a good idea and he would pursue it with the Fire Chief.

Mrs. Schaefer moved to allow Mr. Dougall to be the sole signatory for the warrant for the week of August 9; the motion was seconded and carried.

The board reviewed Robert Zora's weekly report. Mr. Pickles said that a few water samples had tested over the limit for copper and that retesting would need to be done.

Mr. Dougall moved treasury warrant 6; the motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Dougall moved motor vehicle and trailer excise refunds in the amount of $495.42; the motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Dougall moved real estate tax refunds in the amount of $185.34; the motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Dougall moved water commitments in the amount of $725, $273.62 and $648.07 and stump and dump billing in the amount of $1,830; the motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Dougall moved $6.38 in overpayment for water; the motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Dougall moved the warrant for the Fall election; the motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Craver stated that he had neglected to mention that the soft second mortgage program was available to children of residents.

Mrs. Schaefer noted that the next board meeting will be held on Tuesday, August 18, 1992.

Mr. Dougall moved to adjourn the meeting, which was seconded and carried. The board adjourned at 8:05 pm.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

August 17, 1992

A meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called on Monday, August 17 at 7:07 pm. Present were Chairman Harry A. Brown Jr., Selectman L. Joseph Covas Jr., Selectman Lorraine R.C. Roy, and Chief Administrative Secretary Shirley A. Ferreira.

The board unanimously approved the minutes of the August 10, 1992 meeting.

Chairman Brown then explained that a scheduled 7:00 pm appointment with Normand Fredette regarding the removal of earth from Mr. and Mrs. Chu's property on New Bedford Road had been cancelled.

Mr. Brown then acknowledged incoming correspondence beginning with a letter from Antonio Sol regarding storage of items on his property. A cease and desist order has been placed on the property, according to Chairman Brown, and the owner now has 120 days to comply from the date of notification, with a written response due in 13 days.

The board received a 21-page statement from Marc Pacheco, a candidate for State Representative, on his Economic Development Strategy, which Mr. Brown said would be available for those interested in reading it.

Selectmen received a check from SEMASS in lieu of taxes for the month of July, 1992 in the amount $115,447.80.

A letter from the Old Rochester Regional (ORR) School Committee was sent to selectmen to consider resubmitting the engineering proposal project on the next Special Town Meeting. Rochester's $19,494 share of the total $60,000 bill was defeated in the last election.

Selectmen were concerned about how override issues have been presented to the voting public in the past.

Two resignations were next acknowledged by Chairman Brown. The first was from Shirley Ellerbroek who is stepping down from her position with the Council on Aging. Judith Gurney, who is relocating to Marion, also submitted her resignation as Election Warden and Town Historian.

Ms. Gurney recommended Barbara Bessey as her replacement.

Chairman Brown asked that letters of appreciation be sent to both parties and wanted to advise interested applicants that there is now a vacancy to be filled on the Council on Aging.

Selectmen received revisions on the FY93 Cherry Sheet figures regarding per pupil educational spending, Equal Education Opportunity (EEO) aid and lottery disbursement. Rochester will be getting a total of $1,014,814 in estimated revenue from the state for FY93, a $58,081 increase over the previous estimate of $956,733.

A letter from Karen Walega from the regional Board of Health was sent to the selectmen requesting legal counsel for an upcoming public hearing. The board voted unanimously to allow Ms. Walega to seek legal assistance in the matter.

Chairman Brown next read information from the Department of Public Works (DPW) regarding future carnival permits, parades and road races in town.

A cable television questionnaire was sent to the board regarding I-NET facilities in town. According to Chairman Brown, there are no I-NET (interconnecting network) facilities in Rochester that he knows of. These systems allow cable/network television to broadcast via area schools and public access.

Items for the Board of Selectmen's signature included renewal of the lease of property from Mary's Pond, Inc. for the next year, beginning Labor Day for $1.00 per year.

The town now only has to maintain insurance coverage for the tenure. This property is used as a parking area for fishermen on Mary's Pond Road.

The board next approved a warrant for the state primary election to be held on September 15, 1992. This election will include candidates for state representative, county sheriff and county commissioner.

Selectmen also discussed an earth removal permit for Edward J. Ritter. The board said that in order to remove the soil they would have to go through two other lots, requiring further notification of abuttors. Chairman Brown said this agreement would become null and void and asked to table the matter pending further information.

The board briefly discussed the scheduled 8:00 pm joint meeting with the Finance Committee regarding the upcoming September 8 Special Town Meeting. Ms. Ferreira advised the board that the warrant for the Special Town Meeting must be signed and posted no later than Thursday, August 20. (See following Selectman/FinCom Meeting).

Selectman Covas voiced his concern over getting lump overrides to pass.

"The best way is take a full override amount and break it down into individual categories," he said. "That's always been the best way to handle large overrides. The 'all or nothing' approach doesn't work."

The Board of Selectmen adjourned at 7:42 pm to reconvene with the Finance Committee at 8:00 pm.

Rochester Selectmen/Finance Committee Meeting

August 17, 1992

A joint meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen and the Finance Committee (FinCom) was called to order at 8:12 pm by committee chairwoman Patricia Ryan.

Ms. Ryan made opening remarks, explaining that the town presently is facing an approximated $278,358 deficit for fiscal year 1993. Another $10,160 will also come into play due to an anticipated $75,000 in growth, which actually only amounted to $64,800.

"The town for a number of years has been using next year's money to cover their deficit," Ms. Ryan said. "The gap is now getting too large to handle."

Chairwoman Ryan then asked for some suggestions from the many department officials and residents present at the meeting.

Selectman Covas offered a possible solution to the ever-present ORR problem.

"My feeling is that we put the full amount on an override again and if it fails, it fails," he said.

But FinCom member E. Warren Pierce said, "That school is going to come back and bite this town where it sits. That's a capital expense and we can't keep ignoring the upkeep of the building."

Selectman chairman Harry Brown agreed. "Our borrowing at the present time is as low as it's ever going to be," he said. "If we don't do it now, it's going to cost considerably more in the future."

After discussing the fact that everyone needs to be better informed about exactly what each article and override would mean whether passed or failed, the FinCom and Board of Selectmen continued to try to cut corners to balance the fiscal budget.

Selectman Roy made some initial suggestions, including eliminating line item 32, the town's rubbish pickup contract, to save $38,000; cutting line item 57 in half, for town snow removal, to save approximately $15,000; and cutting line item 28 by laying off one police officer to save $20,000.

The rubbish pick-up issue became a major concern for those present, especially with regards to charging a user's fee to residents in place of the present budget allocation.

"You've got to look at some mechanism to see how you're going to collect trash fees from residents," said Mr. Pierce.

Ms. Ryan also recommended cutting the Memorial School budget by $47,000, since the town will receive more money in per pupil spending than previously predicted.

Many department officials present became concerned over further cuts in their respective programs and wanted to know how they can maintain services at substandard rates.

Town Moderator William Chamberlain also concurred on the cutting of various departmental budgets.

"There are some departments which have to function, regardless of cost," he said. "If we cut an equal amount of money from all departments, some will be totally eliminated."

When Ms. Ryan additionally suggested taking a cut out of free cash, Selectman Covas warned that might cause further problems down the road.

"We can't chew off the whole amount in one year," he said. "I'd like for us to keep at least $100,000 in free cash — if not more."

After much haggling over the budgetary problems, it was decided that the forthcoming Special Town Meeting, originally slated for September 8, 1992, would be cancelled and instead the selectmen have called a "special" election for September 30, 1992, to be followed by a Special Town Meeting to be held on either October 13 or 21, 1992.

The reason behind this decision was to determine exactly what the voters are willing to sacrifice in order to balance the budget. Each of the questions give the residents a chance to decide from where and in what amounts the budget should be trimmed.

The following six questions (presented here in draft form) will appear on the Wednesday, September 30 ballot:

• Question 1: Shall the Town of Rochester be allowed an additional $15,000 in real estate and personal property tax for the purpose of supplementing the Law Enforcement Salaries Account, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992?

• Question 2: Shall the Town of Rochester be allowed an additional $27,600 in real estate and personal property tax for the purpose of supplementing the Rubbish Pick-Up Contract for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992?

• Question 3: Shall the Town of Rochester be allowed an additional $10,000 in real estate and property tax for the purpose of supplementing the Highway Department Salary Account for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992?

• Question 4: Shall the Town of Rochester be allowed an additional $1,000 in real estate and personal property tax for the purpose of funding the New Bedford Women's Rape Crisis Project for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992?

• Question 5: Shall the Town of Rochester be allowed an additional $50,000 in real estate and personal property tax to provide funds to balance Article 3, Annual Town Meeting, May 18, 1992?

• Question 6: Shall the Town of Rochester be allowed to exempt from the provisions of Proposition 2 1/2, so called, the sum of $19,494, the Town's share of the amounts required to pay for the bond issued by Old Rochester Regional School District in order to finance the costs of architectural and engineering services in connection with the reconstruction, equipping, remodeling and making extraordinary repairs to the buildings and related facilities of the district?

By the close of the meeting, FinCom Chairwoman Ryan agreed that cuts would have to be made across the board in order to avoid crippling certain departments completely.

"At this point it's clear to me that we're going to have to make some cuts in all the budgets," she said. "I'd also like to see the Board of Selectmen set up a study group to make a formal recommendation regarding future fiscal budgets."

"I think everyone needs to realize that if SEMASS goes down for more than two weeks, we're in big trouble," Ms. Ryan said, referring to the fact that SEMASS' monthly payments to the town are a large portion of their anticipated revenue.

"We're going to have to live with whatever the Town Meeting voters and residents decide," she said.

Adoptable Animals

Beginning this week, The Wanderer will be running profiles of adoptable pets in the tri-town area under the advisement of the local chapter of Animal Umbrella, Inc.

This non-profit group, run by locals Priscilla Thompson and Mary Lou Kobak, takes in and cares for abandoned animals who have been found in the area. Presently the two volunteers have eleven unclaimed cats in their possession looking for homes, with a total of 29 pets available through other chapters.

Like any organization of this type, however, volunteers are always needed. If you would like to offer your services either by serving as a temporary foster home for a pregnant animal or donating your time to the effort, please contact either Priscilla Thompson (758-2896) or Mary Lou Kobak (994-6168).

Now, let's meet this week's adorable couple...

Meet "Woody" and "Katy."
These two long-haired male and female black cats have been vet-checked, received their first shots and are wormed.
"Katy" has double paws.
They are approximately 10-12 weeks old and are ready to cuddle close on those cold, winter nights.

If you are interested in adopting either "Woody" or "Katy," please call Priscilla at 758-2896 or Mary Lou at 994-6168.

Mattapoisett Woman's Club

The Mattapoisett Women's Club is extending an invitation to all women to join its membership. A New Member/Prospective Member Coffee will be held on September 10th at 11:30 am. at the home of Eletha Yeaton of 3 Millbank Rd. Mattapoisett. This meeting will follow the executive board meeting. If you plan to bring a guest at this time, please call 758-6415.

Regular meetings are being changed to start at 12:00 noon to enable mothers to be home in time for children returning from school.

The objectives of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club are Educational, Philanthropic, Civic and Social. This local group is an active club, with many interesting programs. In addition to monthly meetings, where the members enjoy an interesting program and refreshments, there are many smaller groups.

Some of the interest opportunities follow: Service to Veterans and Nursing Homes, Great Decisions, Community Flower Beds, Fine Arts and Literature, Gardening, Genealogy, Gourmet, Bridge, Bowling and Education. We hope that you can join us.

First Congregation Church, Marion

The Penny Pinchers' Exchange, a consignment shop, Main St. in Marion, is pleased to announce the semi-annual half-price sale during the month of August. All clothing and other items in the shop are now on sale for one-half of the ticketed price.

The Penny Pinchers' Exchange first opened the doors to customers in June 1976 in The Congregational Chapel, used by the church school for Sunday classes until the Community Center was built. At that time the room now used as the receiving room was thought spacious enough to house the entire shop. The store was begun by members of the The First Congregational Church of Marion who wanted to raise money to help maintain church property and support the mission work of the church.

Now in its sixteenth year, "the Penny Pinchers'" still raise money every year to help keep the 150 year old church building and 100 year old chapel with its newer addition in ship-shape condition. The Christian Mission and Outreach Committee also continues to benefit from the hard work of mostly volunteer staff at the shop. Customers who frequent the shop are helping to support missions projects in the greater New Bedford area, such as the New Bedford Women's Center, and in the larger church with such projects as Habitat International.

The PPX is open every Wednesday form 10 am. to 4 pm. and every Saturday from 10 am. to 1 pm., except during the months of September and March when the shop is closed to prepare for the next season's new merchandise. The Penny Pinchers' will accept winter items for sale on consignment or donation when they reopen October 3rd. This month the semi-annual sale will continue through August 29th.

New Bedford Whaling Museum

Whaling Museum Seeks Volunteers:

The New Bedford Whaling Museum is seeking applicants who wish to become volunteer guides or library aides. Applicants must successfully complete a 13-week course given by the Museum staff at no charge. It covers the economic, political and social history of the Old Dartmouth area, as well as the story of whaling and other industries. Artists who have lived and painted here are part of the curriculum. Volunteers will then be able to lead guided tours of the museum, give talks on whaling and local history to school groups and other organizations, and assist on special projects.

Applicants must have an interview with members of the Museum's Volunteer Council and the Museum's Education Department before starting the course. The first session of the course is Monday, October 5th, and subsequent meetings are every Monday thereafter for three hours for 13-weeks. There is a break around the holidays.

To get more information and arrange an interview, please call Pat Perry at the Museum 997 - 0046 so that she can schedule an interview.

A good time was had by all who attended the Marion Social Club Chicken Barbecue:

Our heartfelt thanks to Joe Singleton and dedicated volunteers for giving over 100 Marion Senior Citizens such a delightful day. The food was delicious and the gifts bestowed upon almost everyone were super. We want the Marion Social Club to know that we appreciated all their hard work that went into making our day so perfect.

Center School, Mattapoisett

To the editor:

On behalf of the students of Center School, Mattapoisett, this letter is written as a sincere "Thank You" to the following artists for sharing their talents with us during the past spring. We also appreciate the Mattapoisett PTA and the Mattapoisett Arts Lottery Council for providing the funding that supported our fifth annual Visiting Artists Program.

Friends Meeting House

Started as a local group of Christmas carolers in November of 1990, "Calaban" (Gaelic for "Fairhaven") singers of the traditional songs of Scotland, Ireland, and England, reached the culmination of many hours of hard work this past June with a very successful appearance on the stage at the Mystic Seaport Festival. It was only last October 12th, at the rededication of the Long Plain Friends Meetinghouse, that "Calaban", hit of the occasion, made its first big local splash, and finally (at the insistence of the sponsors), gave itself a name.

The third concert of the season in the Music at the Meetinghouse series will feature "Calaban", the increasingly popular mixed choral group, in a program of traditional Scottish, Irish, and English songs.

Although that name might indicate otherwise, only two of "Calaban's" members hail from Fairhaven. The name stems from the rehearsal location at the Fairhaven home of their leader, Paul Croteau, a Roseland (Acushnet) nurseryman. Other members are from New Bedford, Dartmouth, Mattapoisett, and Acushnet, with two from as far away as Rehoboth and Hingham.

Following the biblical injunction to "make a joyful noise", "Calaban", singing 'a Capella' - without instrumental accompaniment - raises its harmonious voice in songs of the sea, songs of work, Irish immigrant songs, seasonal songs, songs both joyful and sad.

"Calaban" may be heard at a free concert at the Long Plain Friends Meetinghouse, 1341 Main St., Acushnet, on Saturday, August 29, at 7:00 pm. Free refreshments are served during intermission. The public is advised to bring a folding chair and/or blanket.

This is the final concert of the 5th season of the popular Music at the Meetinghouse series, sponsored jointly by A C T I O N (Acushnet Citizens Together Improving Our Neighborhood, Inc.) and the Friends of the Friends Meetinghouse.
The popular summer concert series is held on the green of the recently restored 1759 Quaker Meetinghouse, the only building in Acushnet listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Veterans' Services

Some Rhode Island veterans are not receiving the latest information in benefit changes according to John Montgomery, Providence VA Regional Office Director.

"In order for us to keep veterans informed of all benefits changes, we must have their current mailing address, "said Montgomery.

VA announced that those veterans who use the security and efficiency of electronic fund transfers (EFT) for compensation and pension benefits, have their deposits sent directly to their bank accounts. "With the electronic system, when veterans change residence, their deposits continue uninterrupted, " said Montgomery. "That's good for veterans because they don't miss getting their checks. It's also good for VA because it allows us to do our job more efficiently."

The Providence Regional Office Director added, however, that many veterans forget to provide an updated mailing address to their VA Regional Office when they move, perhaps thinking it is unnecessary. " When notices went out to veterans explaining the last increase in compensation, many of those notices were returned marked 'no forwarding address' because the recipients who moved did not provide us with a forwarding address," the director noted.

"Changes in VA benefits occur frequently," said Montgomery, and we need your help in keeping you informed. If you change your place of residence, send your new, updated address to the Providence VA Regional

National Service Life Insurance

The variable loan interest rate for National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policy loans will be reduced to 7 percent on October 1, 1992. The interest rate on NSLI policy loans is based on an economic indicator, The U.S. Treasury Securities Ten Year Constant maturities. Variable loan rates are revised each October, based on this indicator, but by law will never exceed 12 percent. Older loans with fixed rates of 4 percent and 5 percent are not affected.

Veterans with permanent insurance may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value of their policy. In the event of a veteran's death, the outstanding loan balance is deducted from the face value of the policy. Loans may be repaid by direct remittance or by using annual insurance dividends.

For further information on insurance loans, contact the VA Regional Office, 380 Westminster Mall, Providence, Rhode Island 02903 at 273-4910 or call toll-free 1-800-827-0389.

Rochester Council on Aging

COA Seeks Senior Aide

Coastline Elderly Services, the area agency on aging, sponsors a Senior Aide Program, providing part-time work for seniors who qualify and who could use a little extra income. The Rochester Council on Aging is looking for a local senior to work four hours a day as an Aide at the Senior Center and/or Meal Site.

If you are interested, please call the Council on Aging Office at 763-8723, and your name will be submitted to the Senior Aide Program.

Granny's Attic

The "Friends of the Rochester Senior Center" are collecting resaleable articles for their "Granny's Attic" table at the upcoming Congregational Church Fair. The Fair/Flea Market will be Saturday, September 5. This is a fundraising effort for the center and all donations will be gratefully received.

Items can be dropped off at the COA office or at the Center, or call Marie at 763-8723, and a Friend will pick them up. (No clothes, please).

Silver-Haired Legislature

A statewide election for the Massachusetts Silver-Haired Legislature will be held during the week of September 21 - 25. Local place, day and time will be announced, if local candidates take out nomination papers.

Massachusetts senior citizens aged 60 or older, currently registered voters, residing in the districts they seek to represent, and who are willing to serve are encouraged to run for the two-year term.

The Silver-Haired Legislature was established in the Commonwealth in 1980 to provide an educational and advocacy/training action program for the elderly. It is a grass-roots, non-partisan organization dedicated to promoting the well-being of the elderly and their families. Patterned after the General Court of the Commonwealth, its members consist of 40 Senators and 160 Representatives elected from the same districts as the General Court. It is the only advocacy group whose members are elected by their peers.

Candidates for the 1993-94 session of the Legislature must file nominating petitions, certified by the local election commission, that at least 25 of the signers meet the residency, age, and registration requirements. These must be submitted to the Legislature office by August 14.

Nomination petitions are available at the tri-town COA offices. For local information, call Rochester COA at 763-8723; Mattapoisett COA at 758-4110; or Marion COA at 748-3570.

Senior Center

During August, the Senior Center will be open only two days a week, on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Come for Whist on August 27. Join our growing Wednesday Art Class, meeting on August 26. Enjoy creating at the Craft Workshop on August 19 or view a superb movie on August 20.

Rochester Grange

Rochester Grange No. 257 cordially welcomes you to its 82nd Annual Fair. Exhibitions open Friday, August 28 from 7:00 to 9:00 pm and continue on Saturday, August 29, 1:30 - 7:30 pm. There will be 4-H and youth exhibits and supper will be served Saturday at 6:00 pm. Tickets are $5.00 and are available at the door. Musical entertainment will immediately follow the supper.

There will also be an auction on Saturday after 7:30 pm. Admission to the fair is free. This event is sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture Co-Operating.

Rochester Grange No. 257 regular meetings are held the second Wednesday of the month.

Friends of the Dartmouth Libraries

Area artists are responding enthusiastically to the open invitation to exhibit and sell their work at an outdoor show in So. Dartmouth on Aug. 22nd. An annual event under the shade trees at Southworth Library, it is hosted by Friends of the Dartmouth Libraries and has become a popular tradition with both exhibitors and the viewing public and patrons.

To date some thirty artists have enrolled to show their work, with categories ranging from acrylics all through the various mediums for graphic art, including photography.

Ms. Susan Cabral, well-known and respected artist and teacher, is serving as show manager. She has announced that as a special innovation this August the entries will be judged and ribbons awarded in the categories of oils, watercolors, and mixed media. There will also be special awards for the best works exhibited by teens and younger aspiring artists. Ms. Ruth Atkinson, herself a distinguished artist and Friends executive board member, is currently lining up the panel of judges.

With their work unrestricted as to form and content, artists are likewise not limited to the number of entries submitted, nor is there an exhibitor fee. The only condition prevailing is the donation of a tithe to the Friends from the sale of any work.

The roster of exhibitors is still open for enrollment. Anyone wishing to participate in the show should contact Ms. Cabral at (508) 999-4320 to signify their intention and describe the set-up to be used. Artists furnish their own display stands, racks, easels, fences, etc.

The Friends cordially invite the area public to view and purchase, if offered, the works on display. There will be no admission charge, and patrons may enjoy light refreshment while attending. In the event of inclement weather the exhibit will be set up in the ground-level community rooms of Southworth Library, adjacent to the grove at 732 Dartmouth St.

Proceeds of any commission sales will be used by the Friends, a non - profit organization, to promote special library services and free cultural events offered throughout the year. This volunteer group's major fund - raiser is a used book sale, a huge undertaking every fall. Contributions of books to the coming September sale will be gratefully received at the art show; or donors may call 636-2215 to arrange for pickup at home.

Notices From Mattapoisett Town Clerk

Special Registration Sessions:
State Primary - September 15, 1992

Persons may register during regular Town Clerk hours, Monday through Friday 8:00 am to 4:00 pm. All Special Sessions are held in the Town Clerk's Office at Town Hall.

Absentee ballot applications are now being accepted for the September Primary and the November Presidential Election.

Town Clerk Lois K. Ennis reminds that all seawalls, piers, jetties, groins or other coastal engineered structures below mean high tide need a Chapter 91 license that must be recorded in the Registry of Deeds. This applies to all structures regardless of age. Contact your civil engineer or Mr. Robert Burris at the Department of Environmental Protection, Waterways Regulations, for details of the licensing process during the present amnesty period.

Globe Theater Troupe, Inc.

The Globe Theater Troupe, Inc. continues its 5th Anniversary Season with another Dinner & Theater Combination at the Rochester Woman's Club, Route 105 (exit 20 off Route 195) in Rochester, featuring one of Neil Simon's newest comedy hits Rumors on Friday and Saturday, August 21 and 22, at 8:00 pm.

One matinee performance will be held on Sundays, August 23, at 2:00 pm. At the Old Ruggles Inn, located directly opposite the Woman's Club, dinner will be served starting two hours before each performance. This summer, for the first time, a reduced price dinner and theater combination is being offered to senior citizens and students.

A choice of two new entrees will be offered this summer. Combination tickets are $13 for regular admission and $11.50 for seniors and students. Theater tickets only are still $7.50 for regular admission and $5.50 for seniors & students. Reservations are required for all tickets this year. Reservations will be held until 15 minutes before curtain. For information and reservations call 291-0865.

Rumors marks Neil Simon's return to non-autobiographical comedy, although who is to say there is not a bit of the playwright in each and every one of his plays. The play follows the hilarious antics of eight dinner guests who arrive at an anniversary party to find their hosts somewhat indisposed. What has happened to Charlie and Myra? That's what Cassie, Chris, Claire, Ken, Lennie, Ernie and Glenn are trying to figure out before anyone else does.

Playing the party guests are Susan Shaw of Mattapoisett, Anne Schenck of Marion, Charmayne Mc Kenzie and Joe Richards of Falmouth, Lauren Podesta of Weymouth, Michael Hall and Michael Ventura of Wareham and Richard Pacheco of New Bedford. Also of New Bedford are Stephen Gonchar and Karen Jenkins, who portray two police officers.

Directing the August play this year is Mr. Richard Delongchamps of Middleboro. Mr. Delongchamps is a recent winner of the Honorary Silver M. Award of Middleboro for his great service to that town in directing and teaching theater.

The Rochester Woman's Club lower level and The Old Ruggles Inn are wheelchair accessible. The Globe Theater Troupe provides large print playbills upon request. This project is funded in part by the Rochester and Wareham Arts Lottery Councils, and the Plymouth County Development Council.

ST. JUDE'S NOVENA
May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, help of the hopeless, pray for us.

Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 8th day your parayer will be answered. Say if for 9 days. It has ever been known to fail. Publication must be promised. Thank You St. Jude. L.M.
